

I'm not robot!

Free iTunes Songs blog iPod Film Festival A song in Ahirani, a little-known Marathi dialect, has become the latest sensation on Instagram with over four million likes. Hugely popular among women of all age groups, the song 'Dekh tuni bayko kashi nachi rahini' (See how your wife is dancing) is a very popular song in Ahirani. But now it's crossed all borders and such is its popularity that even those unfamiliar with the dialect and the meaning of lyrics are creating reels based on it. "I don't understand the words but I liked the tune," posts Instagram user Preeti, who is apparently from western Maharashtra. Sung by Anjana Barlekar, the song narrates the story of a mother-in-law who feels awkward when her newly married daughter-in-law shakes a leg at a family function. The mother-in-law asks her son to keep a watch on his wife as she is becoming the centre of attraction. "Your wife is dancing but I think she is a little too smart. You need to take note of that," is the tentative translation of the five-minute song. The song's video was shot in Shirpur, Dhule district, and uploaded on YouTube in June. To date, it has been watched by 13.1 million people and has 150,000 likes. These numbers are huge, considering that the Ahirani dialect is spoken only in parts of four of the 36 districts in Maharashtra—Jalgaon, Dhule, Nandurbar and Nashik—and a few areas around Surat in Gujarat. In all, less than 1 million people can speak or understand this dialect. But then, this is not the first time a song in Ahirani has set social media on fire. In 2019, 'Bablya ekas kesavar fuge (Bablya sells balloons in return for hair)' had compelled social media users to take note of the dialect. The Bablya song, produced and sung by Chalisgaon-based artist Sachin Kumawat, tells the story of a balloon seller. His relatives, neighbours and future in-laws ask his friend what he does for a living. The friend tries his best to explain to them that Bablya is a hardworking man who has earned plaudits from his peers and also makes money. The Bablya song is the biggest ever hit Marathi song on social media with close to 240 million views on YouTube. The song 'Zingat' from the Marathi movie Sairat released in 2016 was the other big hit with 80 million views so far. "People want to listen to more localised music," says Krishna Patil, an 84-year-old Ahirani researcher and author from Jalgaon. "Ahirani is a sweet language. It compels you to lose yourself in its sweetness." Patil, a Sahitya Akademi winner (2000), however, denies that Ahirani is merely a dialect of Marathi. "It is an independent language which has existed for 6,000 years. You can find traces of Ahirani in the Ramayana era too. Unfortunately, the language has not been recognised at the government level," says Patil. Todaypk, one of the largest movies download website in 2019, now gains much more popularity in India and around the world. Todaypk currently shares all kinds of movies as well as different web series. Todaypk.video is committed to offering you free access the latest movies, whether in English, Hindi, Tamil or Bengali, only in a pure single click.
